

Cookies use policy

This document defines the conditions for the use of cookies on the Bookinglite bookinglite.com website, explains the purpose of using cookies and defines the rights of users to change and define the rules for the provision of cookies at their discretion.

Cookies are necessary in order to provide and enhance the quality of Alpari's online services, as well as to ensure the confidentiality of information provided by the user and its processing in proper form.

Bookinglite takes all necessary security measures to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, modification or unauthorized deletion of information provided by customers through cookies.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that is stored on your computer or other device used when visiting the site. The text file contains information that is used to provide better quality service to site visitors.

What cookies are used on the BookingLite website?

We use the following types of cookies:

Required. Such cookies are necessary for the operation of the site. These include, for example, cookies that allow you to log into secure parts of the site and use the basic functionality of the site.

Analytical / service. These cookies provide information on how and how often the Bookinglite site is used, which user groups there are, which search tools are used. Cookie statistics can also be obtained from a third party.

Target. Such cookies remember your visits to our site, which pages you visited, which links you clicked. We use this information to make our site and information more relevant to your interests.

How to disable cookies?

If you do not want cookies to be used on your devices, you can change the security settings of your browser. Please note that security settings may vary, they must be configured separately for each browser. If you block all cookies in your browser (including mandatory ones), the whole site or its part may be unavailable to you.
